The fix, if you just want the steps: tap the empty rectangle on the bottom bar, swipe to the last icon (the onion with a line through it) and tap it. The LUT bar shows up. Double-tap your LUT, then turn on LUT Out under settings > Output. I'm on AtomOS 12.7.3, so if yours looks different, tell me your version and whether it moved.

COMMENT 1 | @pro_dvo
Does it support 4k60 or not? On box it has a 4k60 mark, but on Atomos site there's no such option for HDMI

COMMENT 2 | @TheCicada007
Can you share the name or Amazon link (US) link for the cables you’re using?

COMMENT 1 | @73jayzee

Sorry I'm a bit confused - you mentioned pass-through power and camera control. Will the same port provide the pass-through power AND camera control?? (If there is only one USBC port on the camera body)

COMMENT 2 | @Martin.Edling

Thank you for a good review! Do you know how the cooling works? On Atomos website it says passive heat sink which made me think it would be fanless similar to shinobi 5ii but then I saw someone posting something that indicates it does have a fan..? If there is a fan can it be turned off and the monitor still function?

COMMENT 3 | @TheCicada007

When you connected the Vmount did you still have to have the hdmi and usb-c connected to the camera? I was testing portkeys LH7C with my side handle on. both hdmi and usb-c cables seems to interfere with grip.

COMMENT 4 | @andrejdsp

I used the coupon, and I love the monitor. Thank you for posting.

COMMENT 5 | @FabioKasper

Thanks for the coupon. Ordered one as well.
